

AGENDA

Homeownership Roundtable: Exploring Tools and Strategies

CONCURRENT SESSION

Thursday May 29th ▪ 3:30pm – 5:00pm ET

Description: Sustainable homeownership is a critical way that Americans build wealth. Yet, access to affordable homeownership has become increasingly difficult in nearly every market across the country. During this session, members will have the chance to learn from colleagues about the tools they are utilizing to increase the supply of for-sale homes and expand access to affordable homeownership. Strategies include innovative partnerships and capital solutions to acquire land and create housing, converting tax credit properties to homeownership, or working with community land trusts and land banks. This “homeownership roundtable” will also provide space for participants to get feedback from peers on challenges they are facing or new efforts they are exploring.

Welcome: Meaghan McCarthy, Housing Partnership Network

Discussion:

- Tax Credit to Homeownership Conversion | Larry Florin – Chief Executive Officer, Burbank Housing
- Community Land Trust Models | Donna VanNess – President, Housing Channel
- Open Discussion:
 - What strategies are people using/considering reduce the cost of producing units?
 - How are people evaluating the impact of their work, in particular any of the long-term impacts on families that have achieved homeownership?

Wrap-Up and Next Steps:

- Next Homeownership Virtual Peer Exchange: Thursday, September 11th at 1pm ET